

CORNWALL

Cubert Common walk

Explore an easy 1-mile trail at Cubert Common and discover a wealth of nature and wildlife across open grassland. From early spring you'll find the large expanse of open grassland (an agricultural common and Site of Special Scientific Interest) peppered with flowers. Varieties include primrose, cowslips and squill, with other damper areas of marsh habitat full of yellow flag iris. Chattering skylarks can be heard overhead, whilst the roar of the Atlantic swell in the background reminds you how close you are to the ocean.

Information

Address: Porth Joke car park, grid ref: SW776599

OS map: Landranger 200

Activity: Walking

Easy

Dog friendly: Dog waste bin at Porth Joke car park.

Full trail: Miles: 1 (km: 1.6)

Access: Challenging

Duration: 30 mins

Terrain

A gentle grassy walk, with sandy paths and tracks across open grassland.

Total steps: 3

Start point: Porth Joke car park, grid ref: SW776599

1. Exit the car park and turn right up the path, passing an old quarry.
2. Follow the path until you reach a crossroads junction and turn left. This should take you up over the gentle high point of this part of the common.
3. At the other side, turn left and follow the track and stream back to the car park.

End point: Porth Joke car park, grid ref: SW776599