

CORNWALL

Hendersick and Talland Bay Loop

This circular coastal walk comes with fine views of Looe Island and the South East Cornwall coast. The trail includes some detours to the beaches along the way, as well as a visit to Talland church.

Information

Address: Hendersick, near Looe, South East Cornwall, PL13 2HZ

OS map: Landranger 201, Explorer 107

Activity: Walking

Moderate: Uneven terrain throughout. For further details, see section marked Terrain.

Dog friendly: Dogs must be kept under close control, livestock may be present.

Full trail: Miles: 2.5 (km: 4)

Access: Challenging

Duration: 1 hour 30 mins

Terrain

Some steep slopes and steps on the coast path, plus a section walking along a busy, narrow lane. Prepare for mud after wet weather. Be aware of cliff edges and unstable cliffs - keep children supervised.

Total steps: 7

Start point: National Trust car park at Hendersick, grid ref. SX236 520

1. Leave your car in the National Trust car park and picnic site at Hendersick on the West Looe to Talland Road. Take the path in the corner of the car park, go through the gate and follow the wooded path which runs alongside the farm track.
2. After the second gate, turn right, pass the farm buildings to your right, follow the path down the valley to reach the coast path above Portnadler Bay.
3. You can stop here to explore the beach.
4. If you don't take the diversion to explore the beach, turn right (west) and continue south along the coast path. If you have enjoyed the beach, retrace your steps back to where you joined the coast path and then continue as above.
5. Continue along the coast path to the west to Talland Bay or for a much shorter loop take the inland path at Hore Point, which will take you across a couple of fields back to the car park.
6. After visiting the coves, turn east and walk up the steep lane through Talland village.
7. Continue up the lane to reach the car park.

End point: National Trust car park at Hendersick, grid ref. SX236 520