

CORNWALL

Porth Creek all-weather trail

A 1-mile circular trail that takes you up a gentle slope to views across Porth Creek and onwards to Froe along farm boundaries, through a meadow and woodlands. The well-surfaced path is ideal for wheelchairs and pushchair.

Information

Address: Porth, St Anthony, Portscatho, Truro TR2 5EX.

OS map: OS

Activity: Walking

Easy: Well-surfaced footpaths with one small slope. For more details, please see Terrain section.

Dog friendly: Please keep dogs under close control.

Full trail: Miles: 1 (km: 1.6)

Access: Easy

Duration: 45 mins

Terrain

Well-surfaced paths, one gentle slope and tree roots in the woodland. Some of the paths are accessible for wheelchair users, but the slopes through the woods may be tricky.

Total steps: 5

Start point: Porth National Trust car park, St Anthony, Portscatho, Truro TR2 5EX.

1. At Porth, turn right opposite the Thirstea Café, below the entrance to the higher car park. Walk down the lane past holiday cottages on both sides and the lower car park on the right. Ignore the first right-hand turning in to the woods waymarked 'Riverside Footpath Place Quay' (you will return via this track).
2. Go past the thatched holiday cottage on your left and head up the hill. The track will incline along the edge of the woods. At the top of the track you will reach a gateway. Here you can look out across Porth Creek. Take a slight left as the track continues a little further uphill.
3. Following the boundary of farmland on your left, and Creekside Meadow on your right. If you look down, you can see the track you will return on.
4. Enter the woods and follow a bendy, slalom path down through the woods towards the creek. Turn right at the waymarker to Porth.
5. Keep the creekside water (which may just be a muddy stream, depending on the tides) on your left. Follow it back along the bottom of the meadow until you reach the lower car park.

End point: Porth National Trust car park, St Anthony, Portscatho, Truro TR2 5EX.