

NORTHERN IRELAND

Florence Court Blue Trail

A gentle, circular walk through native Irish woodland with historical estate features along the way. Explore the Pleasure Grounds and Walled Garden at Florence Court on the route and look out for one of the most famous trees in Ireland – the original Irish yew tree.

Information

Address: Florence Court, Enniskillen, County Fermanagh, BT92 1DB

OS map: NI Discoverer 26

Activity: Walking

Easy: A gentle, even gradient walk.

Dog friendly

Full trail: Miles: 2.2 (km: 3.52)

Access: Easy

Duration: 45 mins

Terrain

Gentle, even gradient route with some shallow gravel paths.

Total steps: 5

Start point: Visitor centre, OSNI grid ref: NV272002

1. Start from the visitor centre, turning right and crossing the bridge. Follow the path to the left and continue on the path, taking care crossing the road at the admission hut.
2. The trail rejoins the main path here. Continue to follow the signs, crossing a large bridge. Note this part of the path is used by other walkers and horse riders.
3. You'll reach a crossing where the Blue Trail continues to the right, passing the Florence Court Yew tree. Follow the path through the forest and alongside the field toward the pleasure grounds.
4. Continue around the corner to the right and over the bridge into the Pleasure Grounds.
5. Continue through the Pleasure Grounds, keeping to the left and crossing the large wide bridge. Follow the path back around to the right, passing the Sawmill, Summer House and past the mansion. Continue across the road and onwards to return to the visitor centre.

End point: Visitor centre, OSNI grid ref: NV272002